YEAR BOOK OF THE STUDENTS OF HOLY NAMES ACADEMY
S E A T T L E . W A S H I N G T O N

Excalibur . . . THE MAGIC WORD EVOKES A thousand ideas. It is a symbol of intrepid valor of the Christian Knight; it is the powerful weapon which enables him to carry off the victory in the tournament of life; it is unblenching courage and unfailing conviction.

OUR FOUR YEARS AT HOLY NAMES HAVE BEEN THE training period . . . the apprenticeship in the use of this sword of the spirit. Graduation will be the long awaited sign of the order of knighthood. We must disperse on our various quests, and like King Arthur's knights, we must travel the length and breadth of the land in our search. With EXCALIBUR shining and sharp-edged in our grasp, each of us must do battle with ignorance, fear, oppression, and injustice. We must remember the vows we pronounced; in spite of every difficulty we must follow wherever the King may lead us; if we have confidence we cannot fail.

EXCALIBUR IS THE FIGURE OF THE IDEALS WE HAVE been given and the traditions we have been taught at HOLY NAMES. That is the explanation of the name of our year book, and also of our theme for this year.

STUDENT BODY and Class Officers cooperate with the Faculty in a student-participation form of government. Promoting school activities and taking charge of school discipline present pleasant but weighty problems to the Student Council.

True steel whereof they forged Excalibur

Idylls of Ye Classe of '49

NOW IN THAT FALL OF 'FORTY-FIVE THERE CAME
 To HOLY NAMES a brave, but green, young troupe
 Of pages, called by some, Cadets. And these
 Were marshalled in their drill by Sister Jean
 Cecile and Sister Mary James and by
 Good Sister Peter Mary. Leading them in all
 Their fun were Donna Berens, Maudie, she
 Of Oeser, and Patricia Griffin. Pat
 McCullough, Kathleen Brandmeir, and Elaine
 The Ryan molded them in holiness.
 November came and pages all did don
 Insignia of Sodalists. Then swift
 The days did fly until mid-year when jousts
 Were held and four did honorably deserve
 The prizes. March did shine upon the field
 At Garrigan when forth Cadets did go
 In tournament of baskets, but alas!
 'Twas stoutly played, but Comets won the game.
 In farces the pages did excel, for Maude
 And Mary Lou, the Wyse, did play "Return
 Of Martha and Dolly" well. The summer passed.
 And then as Sophomores the pages did
 Return 'neath banner red and white,
 To bear again the tasks of learning set
 By Sister Miriam Carmel, Sister Francel-
 La Mary, Sister Marian Josephine.
 Elected from their fellows, Mary Ann
 The Sullivan, Joanne Tranel, and last,
 Our Donna Berens planned the business
 That fell to the Cadets, while Mary Joan
 O'Connell, Kathleen Brandmeir, Teresa Wil-
 Son were consultors for Our Lady's Knights.
 The year was one of growth . . . recitals showed
 The pages' skill in music. Drills and jousts

Grew e'er more difficult. Approaching now
 The state of squirehood, Donna Berens and Elaine
 Did win the right of voice in council. Kay
 And Terry did become high officers
 In the Sodality. September came
 And all new squires did choose (beneath the care
 Of Sister Constance Clare and Sister Adele
 Maureen and Sister Clarisse Marie) as chiefs;
 Patricia Griffin, Betty Kiley and
 Estelle Champoux. To Christ through Mary they Were led by Mary Pleumer, Marilyn
 Of Gibbons, and by Mary Lou, the Wyse.
 With victory at S.C. gym, Apol-
 Ogetics Ryan won, and fantasy
 By Masqueraders quickly passed the time.
 Awaiting spurs, the squires now stand, now pause,
 Remembering their final year. Elaine
 The Ryan, Kay Brandmeir, and "Muggs" LaCross
 Did lead the squires. Consultors three were Sue
 Of Conroy, Margie Jones, and Barbara
 The Rogstad. Sister Tharsilla, Sister Is-
 Idorita, Sister Esther Mary now
 Have escorted them to knighthood's door,
 While Patty Frane and Nancy Williams and
 That Marilyn of Gibbons did urge on
 With cheers the team to victory in volleyball.
 More plays, more speeches, and more Domes did pile
 Their glory to the skies. In silent watch
 They paused 'midst all festivities and thought
 Upon the battles they would fight as knights
 Against the foe. Now sad but eager, they,
 One night in May, will grasp their swords and bid
 Farewell and charge upon the battlefield.

MARGARET LACROSS shows her fellow physicists how to beat gravity with an "inclined plane," or what piano movers call a ramp. Looking on are Catherine Donahue, Phyllis Shull, Mary Helen Lewis, Carole Etchey, Maureen Weston and Jacquelyn Wadeson.

Members of the typing class practice increasing skill, speed and accuracy.

"Say Ah-h-h-!" command Home Nursing student Catherine Daly as she expertly inspects Susan Sylverter's tonsils while Catherine Donahue holds Raymond as he awaits his turn.

Marjorie McMillan seems to be teaching Florence Shull the hardest of all sewing arts, how to sew in a zipper correctly, while Florence concentrates with the attention worthy of a graduate of the senior sewing class.

Beverly Madden uses every minute to study for exams.

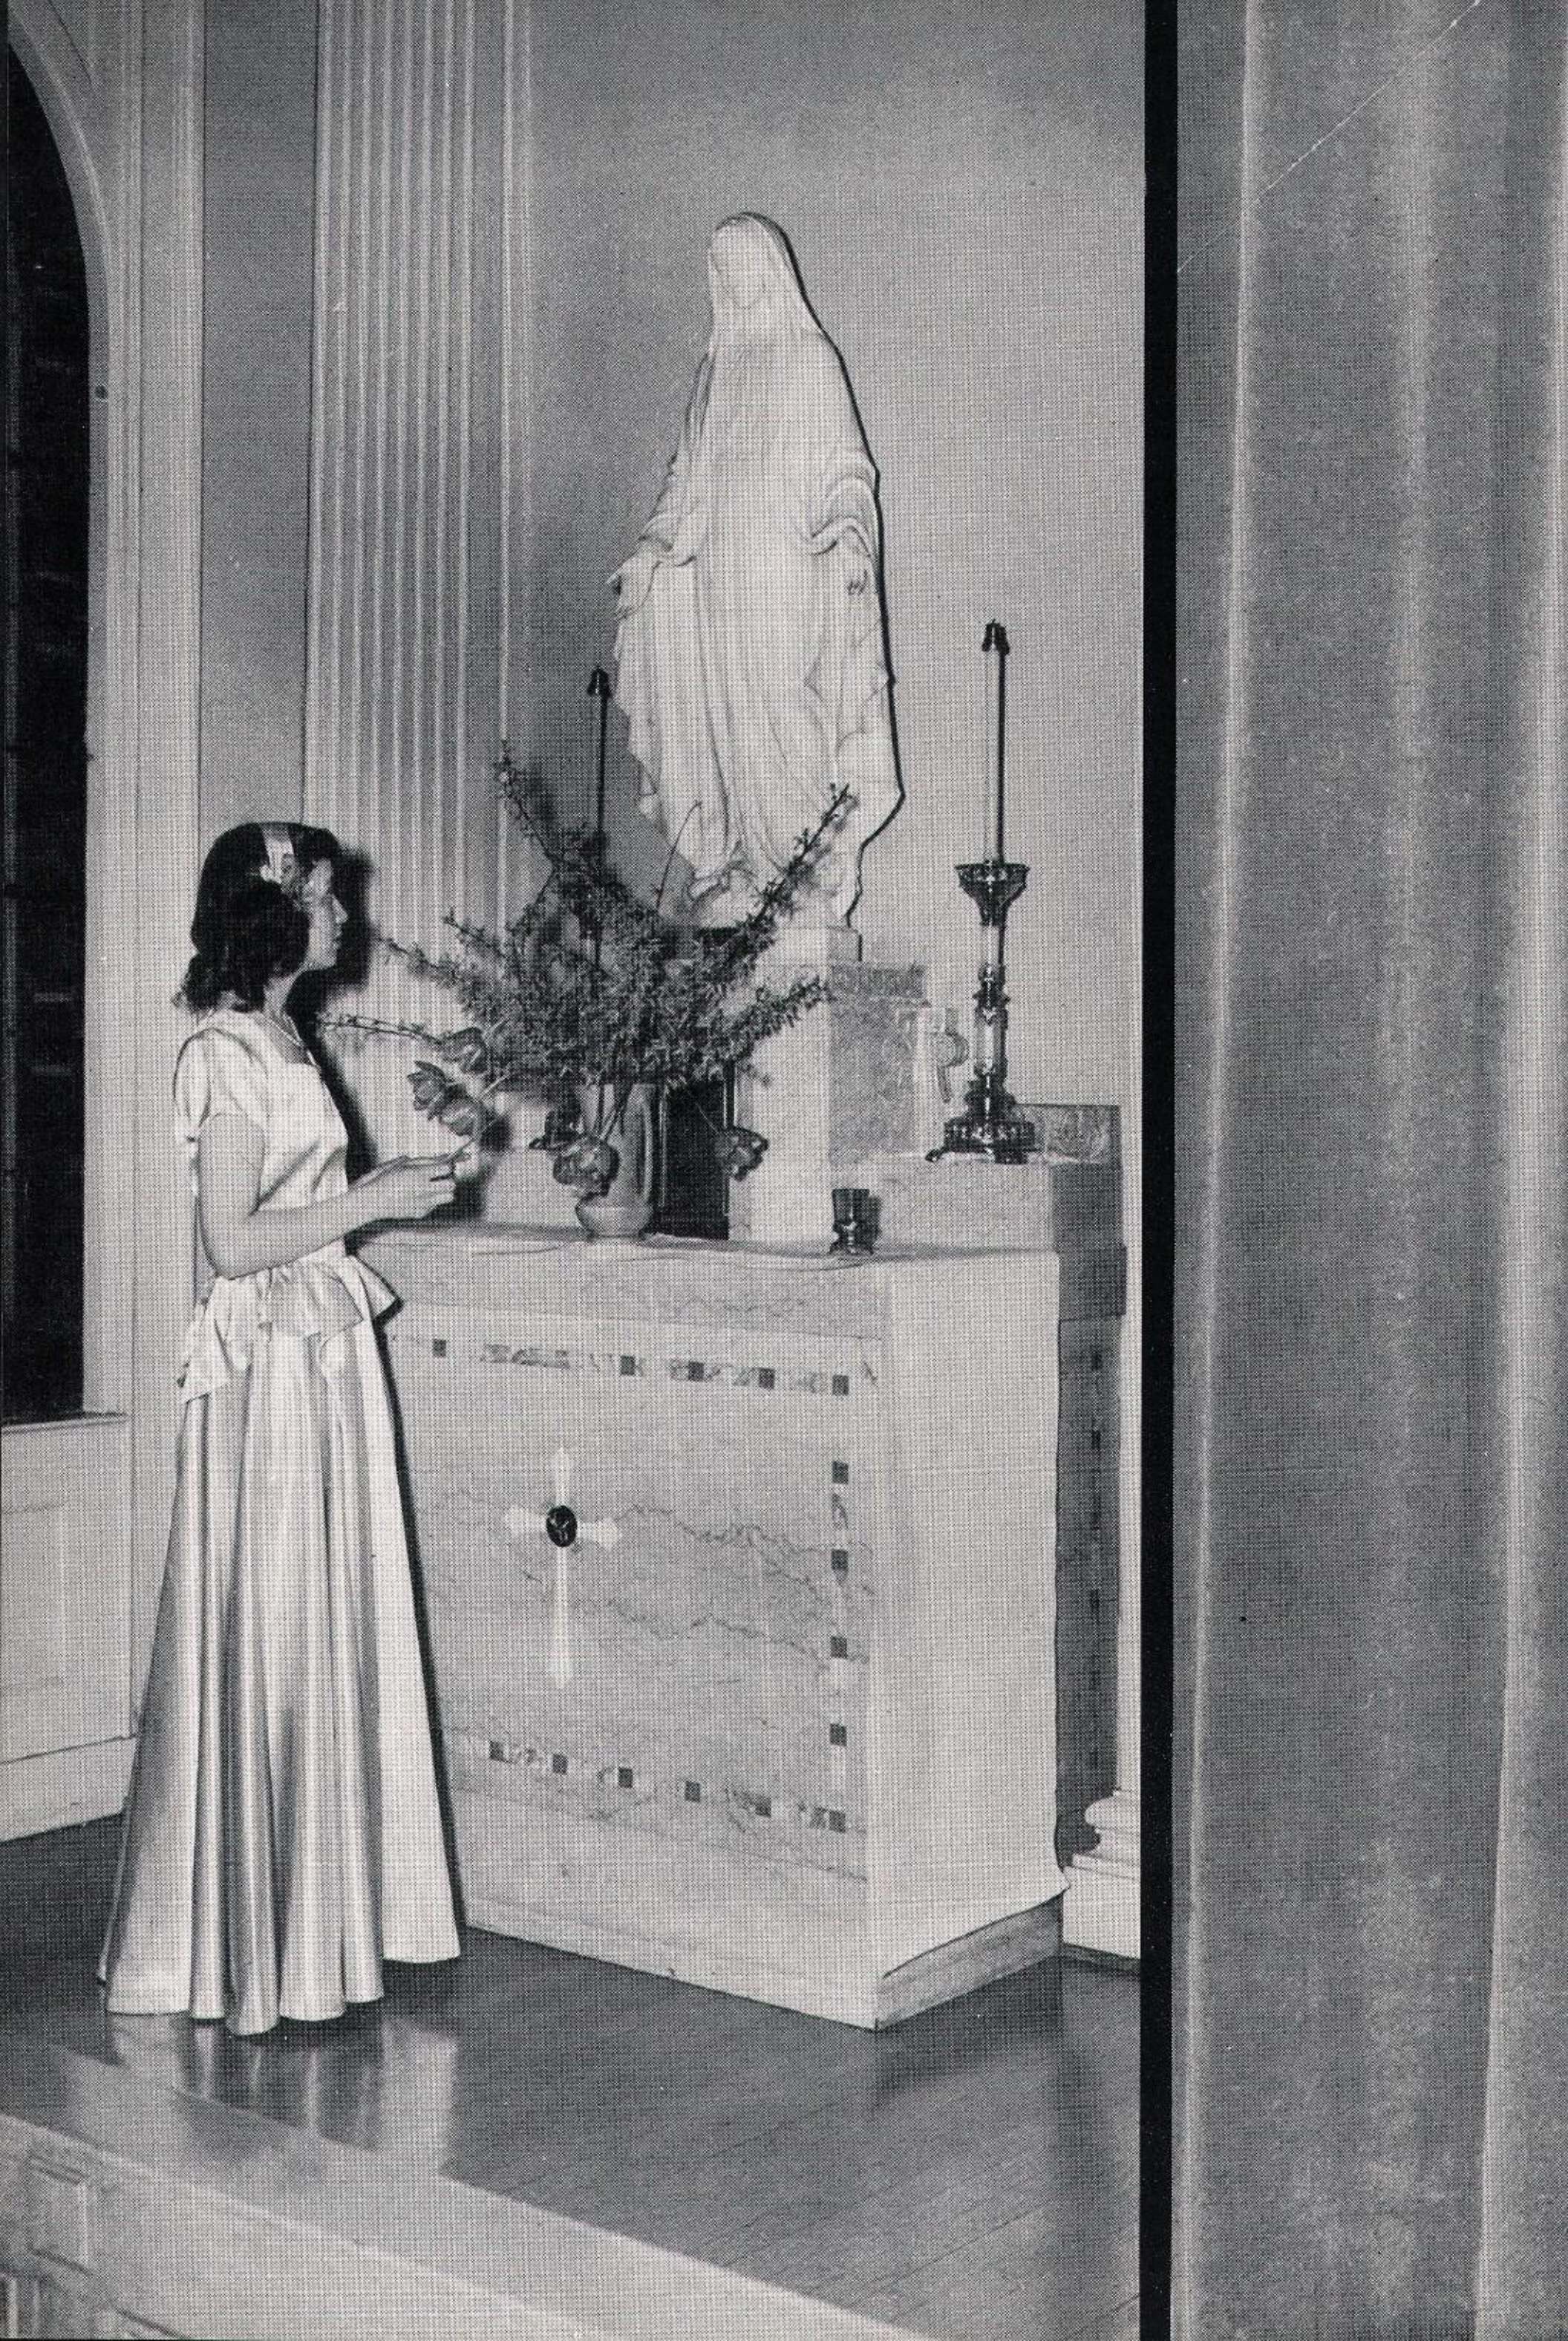

Sally Malone discusses the year's forensic activities with Mr. John Spellman.

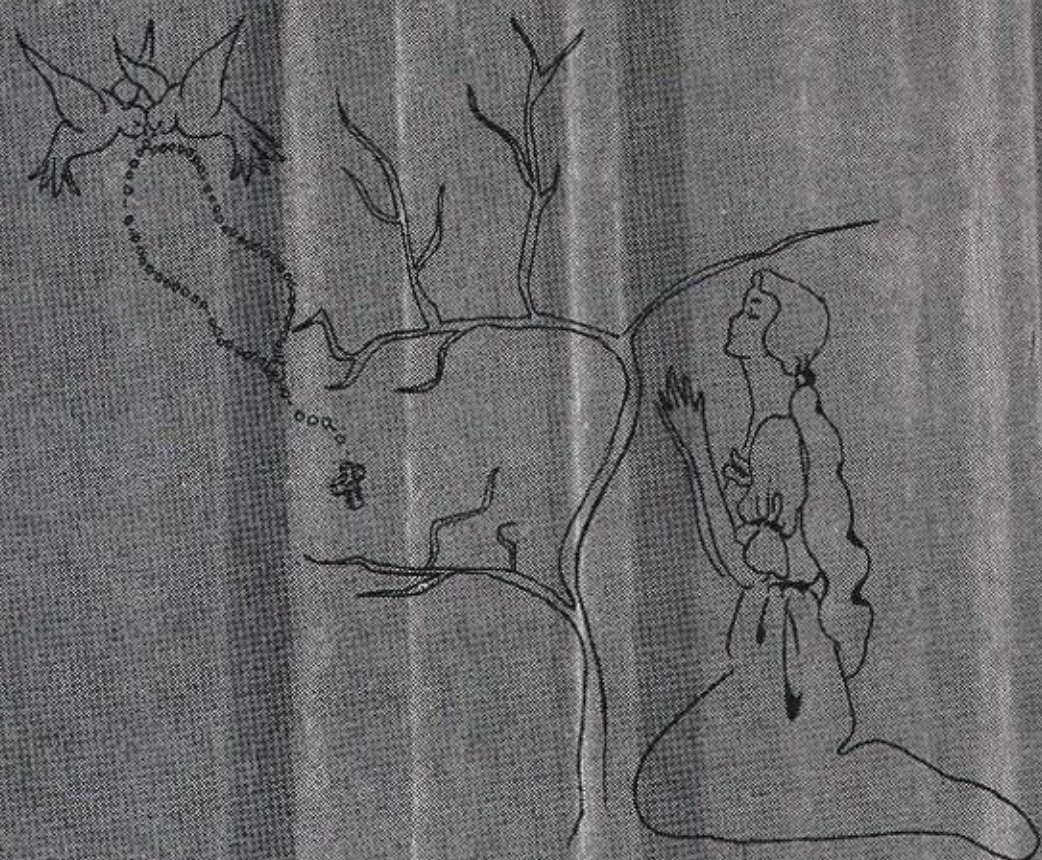

BETTY ANN DOOLEY, HOLY NAMES' representative in the Washington State Resources Oratorical Contest, shows some of the pictures of the Washington scenery over which she became so eloquent to Mary Joan O'Connell, who won second place in the Pacific Coast Quill and Scroll Editorial Contest.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY members' report cards are starred with "A's" and "B's". Charter members of HOLY NAMES Excalibur Chapter: (Back) Mary Joan O'Connell, Mary Ellen Bergman, Louis Legaz, Margaret Jacobs, Joyce Powers, Joanne Breuer, Patricia Chamberlin, Joan Trageser, (front) Louise Fitzgerald, Sally Malone, Mary Ann Sullivan, Mary Katherine Aamodt, Kathleen Brandmeir, Barbara Rogstad, Carol Roe, Margaret Veit and Elaine Ryan look intelligently into the camera.

CLASS CONSULTORS are a very important part of a smoothly running Sodality. They see that the activities of the sodality reach every girl.

To encourage competition the Sodality offers an award to the winning class. The Sodality banner is usually the prize. It is hung in each of the winning class home rooms until the next contest. The captains of the Sodality committee grouped around the banner are Mary Ann Sullivan, Publicity; Marie Henderson, Mission; Loretta Ellis, Parish; Beverly Madden, Our Lady's Committee; Joanne Breuer, Catholic Truth, and Patricia Abair (absent), Eucharistic Committee captain.

Madeline Hopper, Alice Moore, Marilyn Brand (absent).

Suzanne Conroy, Barbara Rogstad, Margaret Jones.

UNDER the splendid direction of Father Richard Hodge, O.F.M., the junior-senior retreat was really a success and one which the seniors will always remember. Father Gerald Ryan, O.F.M., did equally well with the freshman-sophomore retreat.

IN HONOR OF MOTHER MARY ROSE, October 6, several dramatists presented the story of her life to an assembly of the student body. Mary Joan O'Connell, Patricia Chamberlin, Sharon Montgomery, Alice Moore, Isabel Schmidt, and Marilyn Gibbons listen as Sally Malone who plays the part of a sister, narrates the story. At the back of the stage Carolyn Douglas, Janet McMillan and Sharon Chadbourne pantomime a scene from Mother Mary Rose's life.

EVERY Sodality activity is well publicized. Mary Ann Sullivan, chairman, puts up part of the publicity display on the main bulletin board where everyone will be certain to see it.

The reception of new members into the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin every year is always a solemn and beautiful occasion. Father Cornelius M. Power, Holy Names Chaplain, addresses the new sodalists.

Mary Sinnen and Joan Brand, Senior art class dabblers, admire Catherine Dibb's newest art project.

Live pure, speak true . . . follow the King

GRADUATION is a momentous occasion for Beverly Madden, Kathleen Brandmeir, Joanne Welch, JoAnn Giacomini, Donna Berens, Mary Joan O'Connell, Josephine Brown, and Sally Wilwerding after twelve long years at HOLY NAMES. But whether the years went slowly or quickly, twelve years of memories can last a lifetime.

Sally Malone and Patricia Chamberlin stop to pose for a picture.

THE FATHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET, first of its kind at HOLY NAMES will long be remembered. It is hoped that each year the Seniors will have the same privilege.

Thursday nights individual personalities shine forth when the boarders dress up for the evening. Katherine Marilley, Joanne Seeley, Marbary Stafford and Patricia Abair admire the changes they see in each other.

TALKING over plans for the coming big event are members of the prom committee: Kathleen Brandmeir, Elaine Ryan, Margaret LaCross and Patricia Griffin.

The most important night in a Senior's life, besides her graduation, is undoubtedly the night of the Senior Prom. These Seniors and their brothers, Marilyn and Tom Gibbons, Mary Lou and Neil Tarte, Sally and Joe Wilwerding, and Margaret and Leon LaCross, await the arrival of their prom dates.

With their knowledge of Latin and Spanish, Patricia Snider, Charlene Hinkle, and Margaret Lennon try to understand the "parlez-vous" of Theresa Daudelin.

THE Junior Red Cross is active everywhere. Recently a regional conference was held at Lincoln High School to exchange ideas and talk over current projects. Informally discussing plans are Frank Jones, Louis H. Carlson, area Junior Red Cross director, Maude Oeser, a member of the Junior Red Cross advisory board and general chairman of the conference, and Norma Bolton.

A good illustration of the theme of Junior Red Cross is this action picture. Margaret Ann Walsh, Maude Oeser, and Dorothy McBurney bring a little happiness into the life of a child with their gifts.

Zealously wrapping packages to send to Alaska, and having a good time, too, are three Junior Red Cross volunteers, Patricia McCullough, Jean Everett and Margaret Mary Heneghan.

In honor of the Feast of Mother Mary Rose, the Student Body and Sodality officers served tea to the faculty. The Student Body also provided both musical and dramatic entertainment.

The Diary of

September

SCHOOL doth commence, and difficult it is to study after such a pleasant summer. Nevertheless, the sight of old friends and yet newer ones doth make one feel exceeding well. Joustings for positions as class officers are done with great results. Transit pictures, yet undecipherable, are taken and at a grand assembly are introduced the Student Council and Sodality Officers. On September 27, at Holy Mass, the scholars beg the assistance of the Holy Spirit during the year following.

October

THE STUDENT AND SPIRITUAL COUNCILS then present a tea whereupon the Faculty is honored in remembrance of Mother Mary Rose, Foundress. Next donned are the uniforms, verily a clothes preserver, and a fire drill and the Round Robin Games do proceed. The X-Ray of all scholars is employed in the combat of tuberculosis and on October 7 a procession in honor of Our Lady doth occur, the Rosary being said throughout. Then issued are the report scrolls and so ends October.

November

SOON A FESTIVE DAY ENSUES . . . that of All Saints. The Seniors are victors of the Cup Game at Garrigan and the Juniors vanquish the Freshmen. Prayers for deceased students are now sung at a Requiem Mass. The Orchestra renders a fine musical assembly, and on November 22, Mary doth receive more Sodalists beneath her mantle. Sir Samuel Fleming moveth us to action at a Red Cross Assembly. The day following being Thanksgiving Day all maketh merry with plenty of harvest game whilst a vacation passes thence. The happy holiday having ended, we return and receive our second report of grades for the year.

December

THE FEAST OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION of the Blessed Virgin Mary causeth another holiday to be enjoyed, and later a school-wide cast presenteth the initial Masqueraders' production. December 22, being the last day before students journey homeward for Christmas merriment, the inspiring Nativity Story is portrayed for students in the morning and once again for the students' elders at eventide.

January

WE RETURN TO OUR STUDIES laden with staunch resolutions to engross ourselves more diligently in studious reflection. Exceeding energy is poured forth during the exams of the mid-year, but the semester following is begun anew with thoughts that do smack of much ambition. Finally a Recital in which Juniors and Seniors partake doth prove very enjoyable.

February

SIR DANIEL KANE doth speak to the students regarding the School of Catholic Action in Grailville and on February 13, the Seniors sup with their fathers at a

A Damsel

Father-Daughter Board. Many tears of gladness do fall whilst the Junior Masqueraders present "Sob Stuff", and the "Previews of Progress" given by General Motors indeed doth prove fruitful. A day of music soon doth make its appearance with Sir Earl Spicer, Baritone, in the afternoon and a Sophomore Recital the same evening.

March

MARKED BY SHRILL CLAMORINGS, the Pep Rally enliveneth the sport fans in the spirit of the tournament. The day following, delegates come unto H.N.A. to witness the Basketball Games which are held with much swift competition at Seattle University. Soon after, the period of the six weeks is done. Jolly Saint Patrick's Day is occasion of a half festive day whereby all venture forth to see "Joan of Arc." Then, ere springtime arrives, gay strains of music by the HOLY NAMES Cecilians fill the evening at the Song Fest. The orient doth visit H.N.A. in the Sophomore comedy, "The Stolen Prince," and the Freshmen do prove their talents at a fair Recital, March 27. The days of March 30, 31, and April 1 are spent in holy conference with God during Retreat.

April

APRIL 13 CARRIETH WITH IT the reports again, also the start of the Easter vacation and, resulting from the sale of all the tickets for the Tournament at the College, many worthys merit a holiday on April 19. Soon following is the Senior Masqueraders' production and still later, Rev. Cyril Dukehart, guest from St. Edward's Seminary, doth speak to the students. An evening of jollity doth proceed for parents and pupils at Masqueraders' Night. Language clubs do meet to confer upon Lady Mary Joan O'Connell the French medal fairly won in competition. Lady Elaine Ryan and Lady Sandra Pinsonneault also do win awards.

May

MAY BEGINS AS THE Sodalists pay tribute to Mary in a grand and pompous May Procession. In humble thanksgiving the first, second, and third year classes do offer Holy Mass. The gay Senior Prom doth then occur, the scene being the Sand Point Golf and Country Club, and some days later the Seniors and their mothers do offer their Mass of Thanksgiving. Breakfast doth follow. Funful Junior-Senior Day is now in order and the Freshmen do warmly welcome the Eighth Graders . . . only the Sophomores attend classes. Important is the day for the Seniors . . . their Recollection Day. Student Body and Sodality Officers are later elected and the difficult semester exams exhausteth all. As graduation neareth, many special things receive observance: Class Day, honor awards, and promotions. At last the honorable Seniors are deemed worthy to be graduated. The final day doth begin with the Baccalaureate Mass and the Senior Breakfast. At evening, the diplomas are presented with many near-crying pupils, and so ends the happy high school years.

Members of the EXCALIBUR Staff look deceptively confident as they begin their work on the annual. Now they are slightly deflated, tired and much wiser but successful. Discussing cover designs for this year's EXCALIBUR are Mary Katherine Aamodt, assistant editor, Margaret Jacobs, business manager, Catherine Dibb, art editor, Elaine Ryan, editor, and Barbara Rogstad, associate editor.

Suzanne Ladner, Donna Lavery and Sally Wilwerding choose pictures and plan details for layout of the book.

Hard-working scribblers of the Quill and Scroll chapter, Mary Ellen Bergman, Patricia Hyde, Mary Joan O'Connell and Mary Ann Sullivan listen to Mary Pluemer, president, and Carol Roe talk over plans.

From this studious journalism class the student body gets its school newspapers, THE DOME and THE STUDENT PRINTS.

We Express Our Gratitude

TO SISTER SUPERIOR and the FACULTY for their considerate help and advice . . . to MRS. E. O. EIDAL, MR. R. L. PEDERSEN and MR. EARL KENNEL of the Kennell-Ellis Studio for their generous courtesy in supplying the studio and class pictures . . . to all who contributed to the sales of the magazines which made it possible for us to bring back EXCALIBUR.
